Jean Gillespie
"SHOOTING STAR"

Pert and pretty Jean Gillespie, daughter of the William G. Gillespie of 5 Academy Street, may be a real Gotham career girl, but right now she's yearning for the snowy slopes of New England to do a bit of skiing.

Jean, who is a real success story in two of the hardest professional fields for a newcomer to crash—theatre and radio—will make her latest appearance on Sunday evening in the role of Ann Rutledge in the famous play, "Abe Lincoln in Illinois" on the Ford Radio Theatre, which will be heard on the ABC network via Station WCOP in Boston.

The young actress attended Arlington schools and studied with Mary Corbett Burns, local dance instructor. She was graduated from the Bishop-Lee School of the Theatre in Boston and got her first break when appearing with a group of dramatic school students over WEEI in Boston on a Community Fund program.

She dashes home to Arlington whenever possible to visit her doting parents who miss her even more since she is an only child. Mrs. Gillespie, however, has the consolation of being able to hear her popular daughter's voice almost daily on one show or another. Although she does not come from a family of "show

Brotherhood Meeting

Crowds Hearing Room

Additional chairs had to be found to seat the large crowd attending the meeting to discuss plans for Arlington's "Brotherhood Week" observance last Thursday. The week of February 22nd is National Brotherhood Week. President Truman being the honorary chairman. Plans for Arlington's observance of this important event were announced recently.

Locally there will be a program offered in the Robbins Memorial Town Hall, Thursday, February 26 in the evening. In addition, the various civic clubs and organizations, public schools and service clubs will hold individual observances.

Over fifty organizations sent representatives to the meeting in answer to Secretary David Governor's invitation. Rev. Robert M. Rice presided. The group elected the following as the executive committee: Rev. Rice, chairman; James J. Golden, vice-chairman; David Governor, secretary-treasurer; Arthur J. Mansfield and Leonard Wood.

A committee on attendance was appointed, composed of representatives of various organizations. Walter Kenney (service clubs); Mrs. Arthur Mansfield (women's clubs); Mrs. James E. Boyd (P.T.A. groups); Mrs. David Kennedy (Lend-a-Hand clubs); Mrs. Caroline Reed (national service organizations); William Hanlon (fraternal clubs); Miss Evelyn Myer (churches); Hallam Ring (local political organizations).

The ushering will be done by the Girl Scouts with Mrs. Justin McCarthy as organizer. Arthur J. Mansfield was appointed in charge of publicity; Leonard Wood, the music on the program. The executive committee was charged with the details of the program.

The excellence of the response to this meeting and the worthiness of the cause should result in one of the outstanding community gatherings of the year.

CITIZENS' COMMITTEE ENDORSES
PURCELL FOR SELECTMAN

On Monday evening the Arlington Citizens' Committee met at the Academy of Music Hall for the eagerly awaited report of the Qualifications Committee and Board of Directors, and to endorse the candidates they proposed.

As expected, the meeting was a lively one and the hall was jammed to capacity. Many members voiced approval or disapproval orally of the committee recommendations, but on the whole the discussions were not heated. The meeting ended on a harmonious note after an appeal by Chairman John H. Greim, calling for the support by all members of the slate of candidates endorsed.

Joseph A. Purcell was endorsed for the office of Selectman over the incumbent and chairman of the present Board of Selectmen, William C. Adams, and Lawrence Corcoran, an off-time candidate.

Earl A. Ryder and J. Wilbert Anderson, both unopposed for the offices of Town Clerk and Town Treasurer, respectively, received unanimous approval of the members present.

In an unexpected move, the committee endorsed John L. Murphy for the Board of Public Works. In this surprise move, they departed from their customary support in the past of the incumbent, James R. Smith.

Many members were disappointed that the committee endorsement was not given to candidate Herbert D. Stevens. Cloakroom rumor has it that the first ballot of the sub-committee favored Mr. Stevens for the Board of Public Works.

George A. Harris, a contender and active member of the Citizens' Committee, rose and announced to the meeting that he was withdrawing from the race for the Board of Public Works. In the best interests of the town and the committee, Mr. Harris felt that he should throw his support to Mr. Murphy.

For Assessor, Arthur W. Sampson was endorsed. Immediately following this announcement, Henry E. Keenan read a statement announcing his own

March of Dimes

Held Over Feb. 14

The 1948 March of Dimes in Arlington has been extended until February 14, it was announced by the committee, headed by William J. Sinclair. The local fund is still short of its $7500 goal. A group of Auxiliary Police have volunteered to solicit from house to house starting on Monday. They will carry proper credentials for soliciting which may be shown to contributors.

For Polio Fund
Is Arrested

Last Thursday afternoon an alert resident of the apartment house at 281 Massachusetts avenue, Carl Johnson, notified the police by telephone that he had been solicited at his home for a contribution to the March of Dimes Fund by a suspicious appearing man. When Mr. Johnson questioned him regarding his authority to solicit, saying he himself is active on the Arlington Committee and did not recognize the solicitor, the man explained that he was affiliated with the Boston Drive, but seemed very ill at ease during their talk. Police rushed to the address and the vicinity watching for the nervous stranger answering to Mr. Johnson's description, but he had fled.

The next day, Boston police picked up a man on a similar complaint. He at first gave the name of John J. Meredith, but upon examination, said he was George S. Muller, 14 Keswick road, Boston. In his pockets police allege they found slips bearing names and addresses of well-meaning Arlington residents at the Massachusetts avenue address, Chandler st., Brooks av. and Egerton road addresses who had made contributions to what they

CENTRAL PURCHASING — FULL TIME
ASSESSOR.Margaret Wheatley
Is Carnival Queen

Pretty, blonde and blue-eyed Margaret Wheatley, a senior at Fitchburg State Teachers College, reigned over the three day Winter Carnival held last week at the college, as Queen of the 13th annual celebration, after being elected unanimously by her fellow students.

Miss Wheatley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Wheatley of 99 Mt. Vernon street, was crowned in black and enthroned on a huge dias of snowy white. The King was Richard White, a student at Amherst. Both King and Queen received silver loving cups as a gift from the freshman class at the college, and the Queen also received scores of lovely flower tributes and a pearl necklace.

The curly-haired Queen is a graduate of the Arlington High School with the class of 1944, and one of the most active students on the Teacher's College Campus. Her scholastic rating is very high and this is not the first time she has been honored by her classmates at the co-educational school. She was vice president of her class during her freshman and sophomore years; secretary of the Student Council; has been in the college Glee Club since her freshman year; and is also a member of the Dramatic Club and the Women's Athletic Association.

She is now Senior Representative and advertising manager for "Saxifrage" the senior Yearbook. Margaret is a charter member of the Christian Association at college, and when at home is a member of St. John's Episcopal Church.

Her engagement to Robert C. Abrahamson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Abrahamson, 163 Mount Vernon street, Arlington, a senior at Harvard, was announced last year by her parents. No definite wedding plans have been made by the couple, however.

Her father is connected with Shattuck's Hardware in Arlington Center, and Mrs. Wheatley is the well-known Assistant Clerk in the Board of Health.

The Committee To Study and Recommend Changes in the Form of Present Town Government or Departments met on Monday evening at Town Hall to announce the results of their study and report to the citizens on improvements designed to better the town government operations, yet save the taxpayers money.

This committee was appointed at the annual Town Meeting on March 14, 1947, to "investigate, study, consider and make recommendations as to the advisability of adopting another form of municipal government, or, of making any reorganization of town departments that would afford a more unified, integrated, efficient and economical administration of executive function and public services."

The committee reports that after lengthy investigation and study of other forms of municipal government it is firmly of the opinion that the standard representative town meeting government is the best for the present needs of Arlington.

However, they strongly recommend what they believe to be progressive changes and improvements in the present set-up, many of them major ones which should cause heated discussion at the 1948 Town Meeting.

The first important change recommended is the merger of the Board of Public Works, the Board of Survey, the Board of Park Commissioners and the Tree Warden.

The duties and functions of these departments would be vested in and assumed by the Board of Selectmen under the suggested change. The committee points out that while there

BARBERSHOP HARMONY

The barber shops of Arlington are an important part of the town scene, past and present. The twirling "candy cane" pole, cumbersome chairs, shelves of hair tonic bottles, the familiar white coats are old stuff to the average male resident. Years ago rows of hand-decorated, gold-lettered shaving mugs with each owner's name, represented many of the leading citizens. Perhaps, violet-scented talc, a tattered copy of the Police Gazette, and polished brass cuspidors were a part of the interior decoration scheme, too.

But always, the central figure of this nostalgic picture is the barber himself—a dapper man, expert with the lather, razor and shears. From the time many a young citizen got his first haircut amidst his mother's proud but rueful tears, and later on when he got his first shave, the barbershops have played an important part in his life.

There might be a parallel drawn between these masculine havens and the town itself. Our form of town government is not the butt of tawdry election campaigns, fireworks or wasteful exhibitions such as a nearby city is now staging over electing a mayor. Our politics are a bit on the barbershop side—neat and well trimmed—voices raised in friendly discussion. Some might call it old-fashioned but authorities on government and politics say the Town Meeting is as sharp as an old-fashioned razor. We think the barbershops of our town could tell a lot if they could only speak—and so could the barbers.

The male voters talk over the town problems and elections while getting a shave or a haircut. Maybe a town official is in the next chair. Lots of things are settled when men share the same barber—and observe each other in the brightly lighted mirrors, off guard. A shave and a haircut aren't 25 cents anymore, but neither has the cost of government gone down. There are some things that haven't changed, and the town's tonsorial parlors are still the scene for many an off-the-record political forum that helps to decide such points as whether the town budget needs a trim. . . . plans need to be cut or just a brisk tonic applied.

Arlington is an old town and a wise one. Since the days of the Minute Man and his home-style hair trim to the present day (when the only rum in town is a bottle of bay rum at the barber shop), citizens have progressed steadily with typical Yankee caution and what we like to think is a sort of "barbershop harmony". Certainly no other chair, even in higher places, has more far-reaching effects than the barber's chair, and the coming election suspense parallels his questioning cry: "NEXT?"

THE LOWLY ONION

By REV. PERCY BACK

Minister of the Heights Baptist Church

Down the road not too far from Arlington Center, lives a man who imagines he is of no use in the world and gets pretty depressed about it. He needs to study the example of the lowly onion.

He thinks because he never hears any praise that he is therefore of no real value to the world or his fellow men. Could anything be more untrue?

Who ever heard anyone praise an onion? At what concert do they sing the praise of onions? Roses and orchids are the theme of the singer; but when does the onion get any mention? Just look up your poets and writers and find a sonnet to an onion. It can't be done.

However, the onion stacks up well in its world with roses and orchids. What a wealth of delicious dishes would vanish from our tables if onions were no more. As a relish, as a food and as a medicine (I asked a doctor) the onion is invaluable. Yet, no orator ever loses himself in rhetorical transports in honor of onions.

It is, then, clearly not safe to assume because we do not get all the praise coming to us that we are therefore of not much profit. Any teacher will tell you that it is the pupil who does his work without fuss or feathers who brings joy to the teacher's heart. Of course, any preacher will tell you the joy of his ministry is the rank and file who are just faithful. In fact, my Bible says: "Be thou FAITHFUL unto death and I will give thee a crown of life."

May I add without "fuss or feathers", which is just another way of saying that all the unheralded and unsung citizens of our land are probably doing just as good a job in the business of living as those we read about. In fact, we all know that often those from whom we expect most disappoint us, while those from whom we expected next to nothing surprise us with their thoughtfulness and usefulness.

So when you are tempted to say, "What's the use, who cares?", just remember the lowly onion and "Keep on Keeping on."

Thanks Arlington for
Seal Sale Aid
Appreciation to the people of Arlington for their generous support of the 1947 Christmas Seal Sale was expressed today by Harry J. Fox, chairman of the Arlington Tuberculosis Committee.

Reporting that $5,192.76 has been raised to date in the Seal Sale, Mr. Fox said that the generosity of the public will make an expanded tuberculosis control program possible in Arlington and Middlesex County in 1948. Funds raised up to the present time are slightly above the 1946 Seal Sale for a corresponding period. Mr. Fox announced, and it is hoped that many more contributions will still be received. "In the rush of the holiday season people sometimes overlook acknowledging their Christmas Seals," he said. "We are deeply grateful to the people for their prompt and whole-hearted response to our annual appeal for funds." Mr. Fox said, "We consider this generous response as an endorsement of our program and an expression of a community conviction that tuberculosis can and must be conquered. No community can afford to compromise with a disease as menacing as tuberculosis. The citizens of Arlington, by their Christmas Seal purchases, have shown their determination to fight and conquer tuberculosis."

A very large audience gathered in the vestry of the Unitarian Church last Tuesday evening to listen to the rendering of the Merchant of Venice.

The Republican Town Committee has organized for the campaign of 1948 with Mr. George W. W. Sears as Chairman, and Arthur J. Wellington, Esq., as secretary and treasurer. Everybody who possessed a sleighing rig was out on Sunday last and the Mystic Valley boulevard was the scene of exhilarating animation. The day was intensely cold but the sleighing was fine and furs and buffalo robes kept back frost from nipping too hard.

The Pleasant Street girls appeared out on Tuesday afternoon in full trim for the storm, bicycle skirts and high top boots being quite up to date, and quite the proper thing!

An organization meeting of The Searchlight Club will be held at the home of Mrs. Arthur A. Lawson, 13 Ravine street. The object of the club is the stimulation of interest in civic affairs, through impartial investigation and free discussion of political and social questions.

Three years ago and one half, the training school for nurses was opened at Symmes Arlington Hospital. So rapidly has the hospital grown that there have been many new additions to the equipment, and now an X-ray machine has been added.

The Park Avenue Congregational Church was well filled to listen to the talk by the honored and noted townsman and sculptor, Cyrus E. Dallin, on the subject nearest his heart and one which, has found expression in his wonderful realistic statues of the Indians. The subject was "My Indian Friends."

The Cambridge Chronicle of last week printed a story in regard to Charles F. Colledge, 28 Jason street, who has been with the Riverside Press for 52 years. The Advocate extends congratulations.

Morton Bowe's WNAC Concert Program Moves To Saturday Noon

Cronin on the Yankee organ which is housed in the world's largest radio organ studio.

Buick Offers New "Dynaflow Drive"

Buick has announced its 1948 line of cars — 10 distinctively-styled models featuring "Dynaflow Drive", a unique new transmission embodying Buick's answer to "no-shift, clutch-less" driving, and 30 other important engineering advances and improvements, according to Mr. Cliff Miller of the Arlington Buick Company.

The changes engineered into the 1948 Buick cars are designed to produce "greater riding comfort, easier handling and an even more outstanding performance."

Dynaflow, on which Buick has spent several million dollars on machinery and tools, represents a major achievement in automotive design and construction. It will be offered initially as optional equipment on Buick's 1948 Series 70 Roadmaster cars.

With Dynaflow Drive, Buick becomes the first American passenger car to offer the torque transmission. This ingenious mechanism is capable of transmitting power at any desired speed to the rear axle through a soft cushion of oil. There are no sliding gears, no gears ever shift. Virtually all driving is done in a single driving range. There is no clutch pedal.

the mid-season mark, the show-down is due tomorrow night at Waltham when Arlington takes on the Watch City five in the crucial battle for the top spot. At Brookline last week the locals had no trouble with the Wealthy Towners, who have lost seven straight games, as they came home with a 48-29 victory. Big Ed Stephens, the rangy center, was plenty hot as he found the hoop for 24 points, while Joe Guarnotta was next in the scoring feast with 9 markers. The Red and Gray had to come from behind in the Cantab contest as they left the floor at half time trailing by a 20-18 count. However, the third period saw Arlington stage a scoring spree that netted them 18 points and a comfortable margin. Whitey DaRosas led the offense in this surge as he tossed in 9 points in this stanza and a total of 13 in the game. Stevens contributed 10 points while Keany and Carmody had 4 each.

ROLLING THE HOOP
Stevens had a lot of tough luck in the Cambridge game as several of his shots went in and out of the hoop. The first period was even up as both clubs scored 11 points. After tomorrow night's crucial game with Waltham, the locals will not play a league game for a week but will travel to Saugus on Monday for a non-league tilt with Saugus. In the third period of the C. L. game, the locals established some kind of a defensive record when they held the visitors to one lonely point. Newton is hot on the heels of Arlington in the Suburban League race, only one game behind the locals.

Gil Dodds to be at Baptist Men's Class

Gil Dodds, the "Flying Parson" who broke his own indoor mile record last Saturday in New York with a time of 4:05 minutes, will speak before the Men's Class of the First Baptist Church, Sunday at the Noon Meeting. Dodds, the American indoor mile king, is so widely acclaimed in sports circles, the class is making this Family Sunday in order that the wives and younger members of the church, as well as the public who may wish to hear him, may attend. William Rule, Class President, will preside at this service in observance of Youth Week.

Reverend Dodds, who received his Bachelor of Divinity Degree from Gordon College of Theology and Missions and his M. A. Degree in Christian education at Wheaton College, Illinois, considers the Ruggles Street Baptist Church, Roxbury, his "home" church. He is a native of Falls City, Neb. The mantle of "Parson" does not appeal to Dodds as much as some of his other titles because he says, "It sets up a wall between me and the youth with whom I like to work which is harder to break down." Meanwhile, the Reverend credits his ability and success to his faith in God.

ARLINGTON UPSETS BELMONT IN PLAYOFFS AT GARDEN

Leary Gets Two Goals. Title Hopes Revived. Must Beat Medford Saturday.

Despite the absence of regulars Tom Kelley and Joe Shea, a revamped Arlington High sextet exploded a big upset in the first round of the GBI playoffs as they vanquished a supposedly powerful Belmont aggregation, 5-1, at the Boston Garden last Saturday afternoon.

In so easily beating the same club that "white-washed" them just three weeks ago, the Arlington lads gave a shot in the arm to their almost dead hopes of repeating their 1947 title triumphs. They now have a fighting chance to win the crown again but it will be no easy row to hoe, as they must beat both Stoneham and Medford while Belmont is losing to Stoneham and beating Medford. After watching a fourth place Stoneham club climb all over undefeated Medford and drub them unmercifully, 8-2, to the amazement of the customers, the Burns men added to the upset act by pouring it on the weary Belmont crew. Big Ed Emery, the lanky defenseman, started the scoring early in the first period when he split the Belmont defense and blazed one by Paul Kelley, the league's leading net-minder. Two minutes later, Stevens was sent off for tripping and Belmont tied it up on a goal by Skip Vigliorolo. However, Stevens redeemed his penalty just before the end of the period by scoring with a long screened shot that Kelley saw too late. The second period was unproductive of any scoring but saw plenty of ragged hockey as the desperate Belmont outfit missed plenty of chances to score. In the final canto, little Bill Leary, who looks more every week like the best player in the league, took over to score two goals, while Ryan added a third to complete the Arlington triumph. The summary:

Arlington 5, Belmont 1
ARLINGTON—Egan, g; Stevens, rd; Emery, ld; Donovan, rw; Leary, c; Kiniry, lw. Spares—Vincent, Donovan, Robson, Emmons, Parent, Ryan, Forsyth.
BELMONT—Kelley, g; Sylvia, rd; MacKenzie, ld; R. Butt, rw; Vigliorolo, c; Young, lw. Spares—Gurun, Marsh, Cote, J. Butt.
Score by periods 1 2 3 Total
Arlington 2 0 3 5
Belmont 1 0 0 1
First Period—Emery (scrimmage), 2:10; Vigliorolo (Sylvia), 4:07; Stevens (unassisted), Southport, Conn.

St. Agnes CYO Teams In Double Win
Both the boys' and the girls' basketball teams of the St. Agnes CYO came up with hoop wins last week at the high school gym. The Junior boys had an easy time in winning their game, 63-25, over St. Raphael's as Coughlin scored 18 points pacing the attack. Morris and Myres had 8 points each while O'Brien sunk the only foul shot of the game for his side. The girls found the going a little tougher but still won 22-14 over St. James. Joan Finlay was high scorer for the winners while Pat Ryan, Peggy Flynn and Ruth Mendes aided the winning cause. Outstanding, even in defeat, for the losers, were Mary McDough, Nancy Goble and Tugsy Harrington.

Boys' Club News

The Senior Inter-Club basketball league at the Boys' Club got away to a wonderful start. The league consists now of eight full teams. The age of the players range from 14 to 17. Each team will play 14 games and, if it is possible, a round-robin will be played to finish up the year. At the present writing, there is a tie for first place between Kentucky and Dartmouth. Holy Cross is hot on their heels, being just a half game away. The title of "Smallest Player in the League" goes to Bobby Babine. He may be the smallest, but he is one of the most aggressive and also the leading scorer of his club. Tommy Cosgrove, Joe Guarnotta, Don Swanson and Dick Cooper have been doing a wonderful job of officiating. It was funny to see Tommy call a foul on his big brother the other night and to hear his brother Jackie yell at him, "Wait until I get you home tonight."

Roster of Teams

The complete team rosters and club standings are as follows:
HOLY CROSS — Jackie Cosgrove, Sonny Floyd, Mike Keefe, Don O'Brien, John Donovan.

SAVE GAS to SAVE OIL

WHY? Because OIL is used in making the GAS you use

At the request of the State Fuel Oil Coordinator, we ask our customers to SAVE GAS to SAVE OIL. Household gas is an enriched, scientifically-blended product, made from coal and oil. So, when you save gas, you save oil, too.

Right now, the fuel oil situation in New England is critical. In order that hospitals, schools and homes may have oil for even minimum requirements, it is vital that all of us conserve. To this end, we ask our customers, please, to be frugal in their use of GAS, until the present oil shortage is relieved.

MRS. MARY A. PATTEE
Services for Mrs. Mary Alice (Sawin) Pattee, 75, of Boston, formerly of the Boston Athletic Association, died last Thursday at the Mt. Pleasant Cemetery.

Mrs. Pattee was the widow of Herbert W. Pattee, former Boston investment broker and house manager for the Boston Athletic Association. Mrs. Pattee, who died last Thursday, was a native of Maine. She leaves a niece, Mrs. Ashton G. Little of Lexington, and a cousin, Mrs. Arabelle Parker of Newport.

FAKE SOLICITOR
thought was the March of Dimes drive. Actually the collector appears to be a fake and was allegedly pocketing the money, since Fund officials did not even know him. When questioned by Boston police, Muller gave the alibi that he was taking the money into Boston, but he could not explain giving another name. He is being held. Authorities say he would write down each contributor's name and address to make it appear correct.

Meanwhile Chief Archie Bullock issued another warning to local residents not to give money to any solicitor who does not present positive identification. No one is authorized to solicit for the March of Dimes unless he has a letter on Police Auxiliary stationery, signed by William J. Sinclair, chairman of the drive.

Arlington police believe that he may be the same man who was reported to be soliciting at the Capitol Theatre last week. Theatre personnel ordered him out before they notified the police.

thereon, and leaves Bob to his own devices. About eleven o'clock the police car returns. The little newsstand is tucked away for the night, and Bob is driven home. The service to Bob is gratis, of course. It is one of the niceties of our police department. Bob has been on his corner, summer and winter, for over three years. He has a keen mind, and is interested in the study of law. He is a bit of a financier, too. The price of the newspaper is 3 cents of course, but when a nickel is placed in his hand he is apt to ask, naively, "Want the change?" Who could say "yes"?

Now that the deadline for withdrawals from the contests for Town offices is past, the political picture will be considerably clearer. Much maneuvering has been going on as some candidates sought to get others to withdraw. Another prominent factor to be considered is the Citizens' Committee endorsements, featured elsewhere in the Advocate. There was quite a bit of disappointment in some quarters at the way the endorsements turned out.

A Public Works employee was overheard to say: "We are pretty well exhausted from wading into backyards through the unshoveled snow. The remark of some residents hurt. Here we are, doing our best, but when someone tells you you're laying down on the job, that's the payoff." Seems to us a little consideration might be given the garbage collectors who are days behind in the collections. Mr. Fleming, who reports that the concrete band was equally impressive in its appearance on Thursday. Mr. Frank Ward is dean at the school.

Mrs. J. P. Ludwick, the former Mary Claff, with her two youngsters, is in town from Wichita, Kansas, her present home, visiting her mother at 272 Oakland avenue. She hopes to remain until Easter, providing the acute attack of homesickness of one of her sturdy young ones is cured.

Mr. Fleming, who has recently moved to Arlington with his veteran son, to 306 Appleton street, imports his lovely shells from Florida and the West Indies and contrives amusing characters from one inch to one foot high. A retired carpenter, for 17 years with the Gillette Razor Company, the shell craftsman discovered the fascinating world of Conchology through a neighbor and took it up as a hobby when in poor health. Now he's found a hobby that can pay off in profits as well as recreation.

Keenan and Harris

Withdraw from Race
In a last minute move, prompted by their civic mindedness, two contenders in the coming town election took advantage of the opportunity to withdraw by 5:00 p.m. on Tuesday of this week and asked that their names be removed from the official list of candidates. George A. Harris, candidate for the Board of Public Works, who had announced his intention earlier at a meeting of the Citizens' Committee, officially withdrew from the race. The remaining candidates for Public Works are John L. Murphy, Richard L. Powers and James R. Smith.

Henry E. Keenan also notified the office of the Town Clerk to remove his name from the list of candidates for Assessor, thus leaving the field clear for Arthur W. Sampson.

A candidate for re-election as Town Meeting member, Torsten Reenstierna, also asked that his name be withdrawn from the list.

To all persons interested in the estate of John H. Allison, James C. Doyle and James W. Kidder were read and subsequently endorsed by a vote of 57 to 37. Several members present refrained from voting.

Mr. Reenstierna and Mrs. Mary Corbett Burns spoke eloquently on behalf of the candidacy of Mrs. Eleanor Strong. Ralph Stevens, a Citizens' Committee member, spoke for Brewster Ames, and pointed out that the latter had resigned from the office of vice-chairman of the Citizens' Committee when he became a candidate. He expressed the opinion that the same committee that had shown confidence enough in Mr. Ames in making him one of their officers should also demonstrate similar confidence by their endorsement of him for Town office.

The following candidates, all of whom are unopposed, received the official endorsement of the committee: Board of Health, Carl E. Barstow; Cemetery Commissioner, Wathen B. Henderson; Park Commissioner, Everett J. Henderson; Planning Board, Charles H. Bowker, and Tree Warden, George M. Dolan.

Seen through The Spyglass

We are proud of the triple honors brought home to Arlington by Watson's Camellia Gardens, 53 Winter street, East Arlington. At the annual camellia show of the Massachusetts Horticultural Society held in Boston last week, and the only such display in the United States this year, Watson's walked off with the show honors. A silver medal was awarded to them for the best display of camellias in the show; a special prize for the best specimens exhibited, and another prize for the largest variety of blooms shown. The greenhouses are a cooperative project of the Watson family, the members of which are Mr. and Mrs. Samuel T. Watson, Donald Watson and William Watson, all of Lexington; and Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Watson, who make their home at the Gardens. Donald Watson, spokesman for the group, pointed out with pride the fact that they showed 12 varieties of the delicate blossoms, which are native to the Southern climate, and other exhibitors had only three or four types to show.

Yes, that was the "solid" dance band of the Arlington Academy of Music you heard on that Sunday radio show for the March of Dimes, Youth Aids Youth. Our spies also report that the concert band was equally impressive in its appearance on Thursday. Mr. Frank Ward is dean at the school.

Philharmonic Plans

Novel Spring Concert

A meeting of the Board of Directors of The Philharmonic Society of Arlington, Inc., was held on Wednesday evening, January 28th, at the home of Mrs. Morand F. Caldwell, president.

Discussed and voted upon was the establishment of a scholarship fund and it was agreed to launch a drive for this purpose in the near future.

The purchase of tympani stands and sticks was also approved. Delegates were sent to represent the Philharmonic at a meeting of the Brotherhood Week Committee on January 29.

Leo Litwin, conductor of the Philharmonic Society, outlined suggestions for a novel and interesting Spring Concert to be held on April 8th instead of the date previously announced.

At a brief dedicatory ceremony, opening the new offices, Mr. Snow said, "We believe this is the largest, most efficiently laid-out advertising agency in Boston. Each department is so arranged as to be closely integrated with other departments which complement it. There is no advertising, sales promotional merchandising or public relations function which this agency cannot now fulfill for a client, whether he be one of the 'small fellows' with a $1,000 budget, or a Titan of industry whose advertising expenditures are over a million. We will continue to live by the philosophy upon which this business was established, namely, that the small business man deserves a break! We grew and thrived on that business practice and we will continue to uphold it. Our outlook for 1948 is the best in our history—both for increased appropriations and additional new business."

DRASTIC CHANGES

One of the drastic changes proposed by the committee, which should cause considerable discussion, is their proposal that a full-time assessor be appointed in Arlington. The three assessors are part-time men, and many cities and towns the size of Arlington have full-time assessors. The committee feels that such an appointee would be worth his salary many times over. They recommend that he should be a man who could follow through the work initiated by the Board of Selectmen, and as it has been admitted impossible in the past for part-time men to make individual changes in assessments from time to time as required. The initial salary of the Assessor should be set by the Board of Selectmen, and thereafter handled in the Assessors' budget. He should be appointed by the Board of Selectmen, and as in the case of the Executive Officer of the Board, should be removable for cause, only after public hearing.

In conclusion, the committee on Town Government offers its pointers on making the foregoing suggested improvements into effect and recommends that a bill itemizing the proposed changes be introduced at the present session of the Massachusetts Legislature, now convening, for consideration by that body. If the bill is voted upon favorably and becomes an act enabling the town to make the proposed changes, the act would take effect as of the next annual election, otherwise it should not take effect.

The committee extends its thanks to the many citizens, town and state officials who have been helpful in preparing the suggested changes and improvements. The report is signed by the chairman, Roscoe O. Elliott, and the members of the committee: Robert B. Boyd, Lawrence E. Corcoran, secretary; John S. Crosby, J. Howard Hayes, Harold E. Magnuson, Joseph Peterson, Warren A. Seavey, and Arthur P. Wyman.

SUPER PROGRAM FOR P. T. A. CONCERT

Hundreds of Arlington boys and girls are eagerly awaiting the next two programs of fine art which will be presented to them in the form of a musical program at Robbins Memorial Town Hall on Sunday, February 8th, and Sunday, February 15th, at 3:00 p.m.

The Arlington Philharmonic Society, Inc., has graciously consented to put on these programs for the Arlington Council of Parent-Teacher Associations who sponsor this outstanding project. ## Girl Scout Annual Meeting and Election

A large and enthusiastic audience turned out for the Annual Meeting of the Arlington Girl Scouts in the Junior Library Hall last Wednesday, January 28, and were well rewarded by the delightful program presented. The principal speaker was Miss Marie Linstead, a Senior Scout now attending Roslindale High School, who was chosen in competition with thousands of scouts to be one of four delegates from the United States to the Juliette Lowe International Conference at Adelboden, Switzerland, last summer.

Miss Linstead gave a splendid and informative account of her trip, well sprinkled with humor, leaving with her audience the serious and, from one so young, impressive thought that if these girls coming from different countries, different modes of living, not speaking the same language, could get along together for three weeks in the close association of camp life, then surely nations should be able to adapt themselves to peace and unity. Slides, photographed last summer by Miss Linstead, showing Switzerland's scenic beauties brought the story to a close.

There were thirteen delegates at this conference: two from Poland; two from Ireland; two from Luxembourg; two from Switzerland; one from Brazil; and four from the United States. The two leaders were from the United States and Sweden.

The meeting opened with well-chosen words of welcome from Mrs. Justin McCarthy, Commissioner of the Arlington Girl Scouts. During the business meeting, which was presided over by Mrs. McCarthy, Mrs. Z. J. Kord read the auditor's report and Mrs. Frank Swett, chairman of the Council Nominating Committee, presented the following slate which was duly elected: Mrs. Justin McCarthy, Commissioner; Mrs. Walter Alsen, First Deputy Commissioner; Mrs. J. Philip Bower, Second Deputy Commissioner; Mrs. Harold A. Yeames, secretary; Mrs. Frederick Hill, treasurer; and Mrs. James Kidder, assistant treasurer. The meeting was then turned over to Mrs. Roy Spencer, president of the Girl Scout Leaders' Association, who called upon Mrs. David T. Shute, chairman of the Leaders' Nominating Committee, for the names of the proposed new officers. Mrs. Alfred Yood, president; Mrs. Harold Noreen, vice president; Mrs. Elynn MacEwen, treasurer; Mrs. J. E. Smith, recording secretary and Mrs. Robert Penney, corresponding secretary were named and elected.

Service awards were presented with especially appropriate remarks by Mrs. James Bailey of the Advisory Committee of the Scout Council. A fifteen year pin and Thanks Badge were awarded to Mrs. Frederick Hill, ten year pins to Mrs. Justin McCarthy and Mrs. Kenneth Reed, and five year pins to Mrs. Everett Watt and Mrs. Clifford Hall.

The "Report for the Year 1947" arranged by Miss Mary Leveroni, Executive Director of the Arlington Girl Scouts, followed. Barbara Ayles, as Father Time, entered with Barbara Flemming, Helen Lyman, Virginia Buck, Jane Corle, Avis Keyes, Sarah Weston, Marilyn Forbes, Nancy Penney, Audrey Lawton, Janice Gunnerson, Rosamond Homer, Sherry Hilliard, Lucille LeMaire, Roberta Penney, Carol Handschumaker, Judy Lannefeld, Martha Dickie and Frances Wood, who formed the Chorus. Father Time greeted the audience, saying that "This year of Girl Scouts will tell you something of the fun, the work, the service and the friendship they have been able to extend this year through Girl Scouting."

As he turned the pages of a calendar decorated with beautiful illuminated lettering, drawn and painted by Mrs. Kenneth Reed, the girls, representing the different months, stepped forward in turn and gave an account of the accomplishments and activities of that month. The year's story was interspersed with scout songs and at its close, the New Year "1948" played by Judy Cree, entered carrying a scroll. Giving one end of the scroll to Father Time, the Little New Year unwound it, exposing the words "Girl Scouts United by Ideals" and together they held it while the chorus sang "Girl Scouts Together." Costumes and properties were under the direction of Mrs. Frederick Peters and Mrs. Kenneth Reed of the Program Committee.

Refreshments followed with Mrs. James Bailey presiding over
